The website's navigation bar includes the abc4 NEWS logo and menu items for NEWS, WEATHER, LOWCOUNTRY LIVE, FEATURES, and GAME. The article's topic tags are ISAAC, KIMBERLEY JONES, MARGARET JONES MCGILL, DEAN KOKINDA, and LAI. The article text begins with: BERKELEY COUNTY, S.C. (WCIV) — A Lowcountry family and community members are still wondering who killed Kimberley Jones 12 years ago. The article continues with: ABC News 4 is turning up the heat on this cold case with new exclusive pictures taken hours after the shooting. Her mother is also talking about the case publicly for the first time. Last week, we stopped by Fox Creek Apartments in St. Stephen in Berkeley County. Jones was killed inside of her home on Aug. 14, 2008. Some of her neighbors still live at the complex. Shaitaun Isaac was one of the first people we meet. He described what happened the night Jones was killed. Isaac explained, "She stayed on the bottom right here ... He sprayed (bullets) across... It got her." Jones was raising her four kids on the bottom floor of the apartment complex.

Her mother, Margaret Jones McGill, says the children were 6, 4, and 2 years old, when she died. Jones also had an infant who was just 6 months old.

They are now teens growing up without their mother.

Jones-McGill added, "The kids have a lot of photos and the memories."

The Berkeley County Sheriff's Office stated that Jones was sleeping in her bedroom with her boyfriend when someone started shooting outside.

Lt. Dean KoKinda was one of the first deputies on the scene 12 years ago.

Lt. Kokinda recalled, "Some people came by and fired probably 30 rounds ... With Kimberley, she is just a bystander. She was innocent. It had to do with a feud... She was at the wrong place at the wrong time."

The officials said the feud involved Jones' boyfriend.

The only clues left behind were shell casings from the bullets.

The case went cold for 12 years.

But now, it's getting a fresh look.

"It's is scary. It is scary for me," said Jones-McGill.

She is concerned about how the kids will handle the case being reopened.

She added that the children are doing well and are excelling at academics and athletics while living with the pain of not knowing who killed their mother.

Jones-McGill said, "My family doesn't deserve this, especially her kids... They do not deserve this they were out of a mother for all of their lives."
